F.No. SEED/IDEL-HE/ 12/2017-18
Dated 2nd June, 2017

Dear Sir,

We wish to bring to your kind consideration the following capacity development programme in higher education:

The Need: Capacity building among key persons in higher education has been an urgent need of the time. Today the system of higher education is facing several challenges namely, relevance of courses, students' expectations, faculty shortages and their development, inadequate finances, multi-faceted governance and above all external evaluation in the form of assessment and accreditation and National Institutional Ranking. The head/ key persons in institutions of higher education besides, being competent has to be well aware of international developments in higher education and play a role to handle challenge and lead the institutions to acquire high position among the institutions of higher education within and outside the country. SEED- CHEST worked on this aspect and developed an International Diploma programme in Educational Leadership- Higher Education (IDEL-HE) in partnership with international and national experts. It also conducted three batches of IDEL-HE programme successfully.

The IDEL -HE Programme: SEED-CHEST is now happy to announce International Diploma Programme in Educational Leadership- Higher education for the year 2017-18. This is fourth batch of the IDEL-HE. Detailed brochure along with the application form is attached. This year programme has been developed incorporating the latest development in higher education and key aspects of leadership development. Methodology of the programme has been developed keeping in view busy schedule of key persons in higher education. As we believe that the language should not be a barrier in learning, participants have been given choice of language for their studies and submission of project report. They can attend by taking out little time at their home and work places. It is extremely helpful to those in position and those who aspire to head the institutions of higher education.

You are requested to nominate officers of department, principals of government colleges and encourage heads of private institutions of higher education in your state to benefit from this capacity building programme.

Looking forward to your early response and with best wishes

Sincerely Yours

(GD-Sharma)

INTERNATIONAL DIPLOMA IN EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP
--Higher Education

Inspiring you to lead

PREAMBLE

Higher Education is the key to development of economy and society. The goal of every country, therefore, is to build and manage a robust system of higher education, so that it can provide relevant and quality education to people. Education enables people to effectively participate in emerging knowledge economy and acquire internationally competitive edge. Towards attainment of this goal, there is a need to develop programme for capacity building among key educational persons namely, heads and other key officers of institutions of higher education, planners, managers and entrepreneurs so that they can take up leadership role to develop and manage a robust system of higher education.

This International Diploma in Educational Leadership is designed to: equip the participants about the latest development in higher education, develop in them critical & innovative techniques of analyzing and responding to emerging challenges and enable them to develop a project that can be implemented in his/her respective institute to make it acquire unique position and be in the league of leading institutions in the country/world.

THE IDEL-HE: PHILOSOPHY, SCOPE, CONTENTS AND APPROACH
THE DETAILS ON ABOVE ASPECTS ARE GIVEN BELOW:

PHILOSOPHY:

The guiding philosophy of this diploma is to help developing a dynamic and robust system of higher education through providing knowledge, skills and by inspiring the key persons in the organization to play dynamic and effective leadership role in management and development of their educational institutions. It is designed for key position holders in institutions of higher education so as to develop their capacity to lead the institutions in more dynamic and progressive manner.

SCOPE:

The scope of the programme is to widen the horizon and deepen the understanding on emerging issues in development of higher education within a country and globally. To be specific the programme covers areas namely: (i) Emerging key challenges of higher education in the fourth Industrial revolution (ii) planning and strategic management, (iii) Global trends in financial management and effective use of funds through applying various techniques, (iv) human resources and academic staff development, appraisal and management (v) regulatory systems and proposed reforms - focusing on negotiating with regulatory/government systems, (vi) quality assurance - toward achieving excellence, this will include development of Self Study Report (SSR) and External Quality Review Report (EQRR), NIRF and World University Ranking (vii) brand building, developing strategies to build brand; reputation and image management, (viii) educational innovations pertaining to setting up Research and Innovations Centre involving teachers and students on voluntary basis and inspiring students to skills and drive among the participants to critically examine the issues and apply the knowledge in real life situations. Keeping this in view, the contents and delivery of the programme are designed in such a way that participants while pursuing their full time work can easily take a chunk of module(s) delivered to them via e-mail and comfortably go through it, conceptualize and contemplate areas of its application. In case of any query and doubts participants are welcome to contact help desk at seedicf@gmail.com/ idelhe@gmail.com / e-mail queries to author(s) of the module to seek clarifications.

Interaction and Application:

To fortify the learning and application process, there will be a one week face-to-face contact programme at suitable location(s). During this week participants will have an opportunity to interact and discuss the modules with eminent scholars and work out their institutional development plan focusing on academic, financial and strategic management so as to distinguish themselves and their institutions as leader in higher education system.

International Summer School Programme

There is a possibility of international exposure through Summer School programme for one week.

Two Summer School Programmes have already been held in July, 2012 and July,2013 in Paris. In Summer Schools participants visited and interacted with experts from UNESCO, OECD, IIEP and Maastricht School of Management, Maastricht, Netherlands and visited Geneva for spot study.

OUTCOME OF LEARNING:

Participants would be able to develop:

- A comprehensive view of higher education in local and global context and ability to do research and analyse issues and problems in a larger context;
- Capability to apply: the techniques of planning, strategic management and leadership skills for development and management of institutions of higher education.
- Ability to transfer the knowledge and skills to next generation leaders in the institutions of higher education and;
- Develop a professional peer group network nationally and internationally for mutual benefit

DEMONSTRATION OF LEARNING OUTCOME:

In order to demonstrate the above outcome, participants will prepare a portfolio of their acquisition of knowledge and skills. They will write:

- (i) A short term paper or an essay, and
- (ii) Develop their institutional development plan and implementation strategy in the form of project report or an extended essay on specific aspects of development of higher education in the state, region, nation and the world.
