Subject: An appeal for Quality pledge under Standards Club in Schools on the occasion of World Standards Day 2024.

Dear Sir,

Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) has been mandated to formulate national standards as well as promote use of these standards among various stakeholders. In pursuit of this mandate, academia has been identified as an important stakeholder as the knowledge of quality and standards is of immense value to the students to seamlessly join the quality ecosystem in near future on completion of academic sessions.

One of the most visible and vibrant engagement with academia is in the form of creation of Standards Clubs in schools and colleges across India. These Clubs provide a platform for the students to explore the world of standards for enhancing their knowledge through interactive and competitive means such as quiz and essay writing, poster making and standard-writing competitions. BIS has formulated Standards Clubs in various Govt. Schools and Colleges across the State of Himachal Pradesh.

World Standards Day is celebrated on October 14th every year to honor the work of the experts who develop Technical Agreements that become National and International Standards. The day also raises awareness of the importance of Standards in the Global Economy. World Standards Day is an occasion to recognize the crucial role that standards play in our daily lives, fostering safety, efficiency, and innovation.

As we commemorate World Standards Day, we encourage you to reflect on the importance of Standards in your respective fields and explore how adherence to Indian Standards can further enhance the quality and efficiency of your operations. Your support in upholding and implementing Indian Standards contributes significantly to the collective growth and development of the nation.
